

GEN. SHERMAN LIVES

The Old Warrior Still Battling With Death.

ODDS GREATLY AGAINST HIM.

His Physicians, However, Think There is a Bare Possibility of His Recovery. The Bulletin as Issued During the Past Twelve Hours.

NEW YORK, Feb. 13.—The lights and fitting shadows in the death chamber of Gen. Sherman are carefully watched both day and night by a score of newspaper men, and every bulletin issued by Drs. Alexander and Janeway, are quickly wired all over the continent.

Bulletins were issued every few minutes during the entire day showing that the old warrior was hovering between life and death, and every moment was expected to be his last.

At 6 o'clock yesterday evening the following bulletin was issued:

"Gen. Sherman is breathing heavily. Great anxiety is entertained."

At 7 p. m. the following: "Gen. Sherman much lower the last two hours. Drs. Green and Anderson in attendance. Dr. Janeway coming for another consultation. Not expected to live through the night. The family have given up all hope."

8:30 p. m.—"Gen. Sherman's condition is very critical. He is growing gradually weaker."

8:45 p. m.—"The family of Gen. Sherman have sent telegrams to immediate friends summoning them to the bedside. Within the last several minutes a number of people have arrived in cabs driven at high speed. It is thought by all that the end is near."

At 9:30 this bulletin was issued by the physicians of Gen. Sherman.

"The physicians in consultation say that there is no change. If Gen. Sherman maintains his present status for twenty-four hours the situation will be hopeful."

JOHN SHERMAN.

At 10:30 p. m. Gen. Thomas Ewing, accompanied by his son and daughter, left the Sherman residence for their home. Gen. Ewing said that Gen. Sherman was then resting easier. The trained nurse and the doctors watching at his bedside. The family are taking a little needed rest. They anticipate no change until 1 or 2 o'clock in the morning. At that hour they fear a bad sinking spell.

At 11:25 Mr. Thackara, Gen. Sherman's son-in-law, left the house. He said that the general was in a semi-conscious state and no change was expected until after midnight.

At 12 o'clock Lieut. Fitch left Gen. Sherman's residence to spend the night at Dr. Green's house. He said that at 11 o'clock Gen. Sherman got out of bed and walked half way across the room without assistance. He could not speak but appeared to recognize those in the room. The general had to be helped back to the bed. He was very much exhausted.

At midnight there was no change for the worse in Gen. Sherman's condition. The doctors agree that if he continues as at present there is a chance for recovery.

At 2 o'clock it was stated that Gen. Sherman appeared to be asleep. His breathing indicated that his lungs were filled with mucus. Dr. Alexander thought the erysipelas was leaving his patient, but the general condition of the general had not improved.

The following bulletin was issued at 1:15 a. m.

"Gen. Sherman is resting quietly. Condition somewhat improved."

BARRETT.

At 1:45 this morning the following bulletin was issued:

"The members of Gen. Sherman's family are, with the exception of his daughter, Miss Rachel Sherman, resting within easy call of the sick room. Dr. Alexander, Private Secretary Barrett and Miss Rachel are at the general's bedside. Miss Rachel absolutely refuses to leave the room, despite Dr. Alexander's admonition that she will break down if she does not get some rest."

SISTER CATHERINE NOW.

Miss Catherine M. Drexel Takes the Final Vows of a Sister.

PITTSBURG, Feb. 13.—Miss Catherine M. Drexel, daughter of the late F. A. Drexel, the Philadelphia banker and millionaire, Thursday took the final vows which make her for life a sister of the Roman Catholic church. The solemn and impressive ceremony took place in the chapel of the Convent of the Sisters of Mercy in this city, and in which institution Miss Drexel has served her novitiate for a year and a half. Less than one hundred persons, including her relations, a few intimate friends, the Sisters of Mercy and a number of priests, were present on the occasion. After the sermon Miss Drexel was invested with the black veil and became Sister Catherine. A new form of profession, and one that under the rules of the church had previously received the indorsement of the congregation of cardinals who are entrusted with authority and discretion in such matters, was used. This was due to the fact that Miss Drexel does not join the order of the Sisters of Mercy, but is to found an entirely new order and, consequently, none of the rituals used in connection with existing orders was appropriate for the ceremony.

OHIO REPUBLICAN LEAGUE.

Lincoln's Birthday Celebrated by a Banquet at Toledo.

TOLEDO, O., Feb. 13.—The Ohio Republican league celebrated Lincoln's birthday last night with a banquet in Memorial hall. The hall was beautifully and artistically decorated. It was 8:30 when the orchestra ceased playing and the Hon. James Boyle, the retiring president, made a brief address of welcome to the 300 guests.

At the conclusion of the feast the Hon. William H. Gibson, of Tiffin, took the toast-master's place and the speaking began.

The first toast, "Abraham Lincoln," was responded to by Hon. James M. Ashley. His response was largely a recital of his personal intercourse with Lincoln beginning at Alton, Ill., in 1855 during the Douglass debate.

Hon. Robert P. Porter responded to the toast, "The Press from the Standpoint of American Journalism."

Hon. Bellamy Storer, of Cincinnati, responded to "The Young Republicans of Ohio."

Then came the toast, "An American Tariff for the American People" to which Hon. William McKinley responded.

The remaining toasts were, "Equality of Citizenship the Safety of the Republic," response by Prof. D. Augustus Straker, of Detroit, Mich.

"Why I am a Republican," by Hon. E. S. Wallace, of Springfield.

"The Buckeye State," by Hon. Robert M. Nevin, of Dayton.

Letters of regret were read from Senator Sherman, Ex-Governor Foraker, Congressmen Dalzell and McComas, and others.

CORNERED THE CLERKS,

Got the Bank's Money, but Driver Probst's Fist Fells Him.

MINNEAPOLIS, Feb. 13.—A bold attempt to rob the Citizens' bank was made yesterday morning. It was not successful, although the robber got the money in his possession. The robber jumped over the counter rail, and pulling a revolver on Assistant Cashier McQuaig, who was alone, save for the presence of a clerk, told him to hold up his hands.

Having both men cornered he coolly went about and gathered up all the money in a hand satchel and then made for the door, but at this moment McQuaig dashed to the door and called "police." This attracted the attention of C. Probst, a driver for the United States Express company, who was on his wagon near by. He jumped off and started for the man, who at once fired his revolver, apparently in the air. As he fired Probst struck him a hard blow on the neck and several men grabbed him. He was soon overpowered and was turned over to an officer. He is supposed to be a former janitor of the building.

A HIGHER COURT.

Rev. MacQuary Thinks It Much Needed in Episcopalianism.

CANTON, O., Feb. 13.—Rev. Howard MacQuary, the heretical Episcopal minister, whose case is under advisement, has written the ecclesiastical court requesting them to favor him with an early decision. He is desirous of closing his parlor here, and if the verdict is unfavorable, will probably remove to Virginia and engage in literary work.

It is interesting in view of the rector's statement that he will remain in the Episcopal church, to know that the verdict in the heresy case will only affect Mr. MacQuary's standing in the northern Ohio diocese. There being no appellate court in the Episcopal church, the verdict would be final so far as this diocese is concerned, but nothing to prevent him from accepting a charge in another diocese. Should he do this, and the question of his orthodoxy be again raised another trial would result, and so in every diocese in the country. Mr. MacQuary thinks this evidences the need of a higher ecclesiastical court.

DESTITUTE WORKMEN.

Nearly Five Hundred Unemployed Men Suffering for Food.

KEYPORT, N. J., Feb. 13.—Nearly 450 of the men employed at the Lorillard brick works, which recently assigned, are out of work and are destitute. Money is owed to the men by the works, but they cannot get it. Yesterday the receiver of the concern was here, and had a conference with the merchants of the place and tried to arrange some plan to supply the workmen with the necessities of life.

The merchants here hold about $30,000 worth of time checks which were issued to the men by the company, and they do not care to accept any more of them. The receiver promised to settle with them within ten or fifteen days. The merchants will probably hold a meeting when they will decide whether or not to cash more checks. In the mean time, many of the employed men, who are mostly Danes and Norwegians, are living on the oysters and clams they can catch in the river near here.

A Cry of Distress.

"Fire! Fire!" The cries proceeded from the parlor, where the lady of the house was sitting, and penetrated into the kitchen. The next moment the nurse and the cook burst into the room, followed by two gallant defenders of the country and one civilian. "There [a pause]; you can now go back again," said madame, who was reclining on the sofa. "I only wanted to see how many followers were in the house."—Littell's Blatier.

TERRIFIC EXPLOSION

Twenty People Killed in a Quebec Mill.

SEVERAL OTHERS ARE DYING.

About Twenty More Either Fatally Injured or Badly Burned—The Engine Room Utterly Demolished and the Main Building Badly Wrecked—List of the Victims So Far as Ascertained.

QUEBEC, Feb. 1.—About 9:45 yesterday morning, the boiler in the Quebec Worsteds company's factory at Hare Point, exploded, completely destroying the engine house and half of the building. A large number of employees were buried in the ruins.

The works of the Quebec Worsteds company are situated at Hare Point, on the northwestern outskirts of the city, and cover a large area and employ more hands than any other manufacturing establishment in the city. They had been closed down for two weeks while the boilers and machinery were being overhauled and refitted. Operations were to have been resumed yesterday morning and about 100 of the operatives were on hand, but owing to some cause the machinery was not started and they were dismissed. Most of them fortunately went back to their homes, but many remained about the building, a number keeping in the vicinity of the engine room for the sake of the warmth. About 9:45 o'clock there was a sudden explosion which completely wrecked the engine and demolished a large part of the main building.

The noise of the explosion was heard all over the city, and soon a great crowd gathered about the scene. The work of rescuing those buried in the ruins and recovering the bodies of the dead was at once commenced. The fire brigade was summoned, but fortunately the horrors of fire were not added to the calamity. The excitement was so great and the crowd so enormous that Battery B was ordered down to assist the police in maintaining order. In the great confusion which prevailed it was impossible to get a reliable list of the killed and injured, and this may not be obtained until the ruins are thoroughly examined.

Several persons who were supposed to be in the ruins have turned up, having left the mill before the explosion. About twenty dead have already been taken out, besides as many badly injured. Among those identified are:

William Forest, dead.
Emilia Cole, badly scalded.
Alex. Marineau, dying.
Miss Rousseau, broken thigh and fractured skull.
John Morrison, fractured skull.
Timothy Enright, head injured.
Pierre Peterson, scalded and bruised.
P. Blouin, scalded.
Emilia Lorie, dying.
Miss Mercier, dead.
Joseph Dufresne, dead.
Henri LaLiberte, dead.
John McHaud, dead.
J. Styles, dead.
H. Styles, fatally scalded.
John LaMontagne, dead.
Arthur Tweedle, dead.
Engineer Francois, dead.
F. Dion, broken arm and leg.
Mannet File, broken arm.
Caroline Morrisette, bruised and scalded.
F. Villeneuve, dying.
Ed. Morrison, dying.
Gustave Blouin, dead.
Arthur Rousseau, dead.
Peter Clement, dead.
T. Giroux, dying.
T. Lemelin, slight injuries.
—Lee, dead.

The body of Engineer Francois was crushed out of shape by the mass of debris which covered him. The work of rescue is still going on. The marine hospital has been opened for the reception of the dead and dying and is besieged by people searching for missing relatives.

Foreman Harvey, boss of the workmen who were repairing the machinery and boilers, had a narrow escape. He was in the engine room when the explosion occurred. He instinctively threw himself under the shelter of a large wheel. He was rescued half an hour later with only slight injuries. He cannot account for the accident.

There is a good number of doctors and surgeons on hand. On account of the large number of persons who started yesterday morning, and as stated subsequently returned home, the number of missing is probably much exaggerated. The cause of the accident is not yet known, but it is thought some of the pipes may have been frozen while the fires were out, and so caused a stoppage when steam was got up.

WORK FOR THE MINE WORKERS.

Declarations of the Convention Now in Session at Columbus, O.

COLUMBUS, O., Feb. 13.—The National miners' convention adopted a resolution that all miners and mine workers in the United States demand the eight-hour work day, May 1 next, and that no miner remain in the mines longer than eight hours. The system of idle coal days is to be abolished, and the executive committee is instructed to provide means for the enforcement of the eight-hour per day system. This action makes a strike certain unless the demand is conceded by the operators.

The adopted report of the committee on resolutions asked the legislatures of the various states to pass laws making it obligatory that all coal be paid for before screening; asking for laws giving greater safety to Pennsylvania miners; declaring in favor of female suffrage; against inferior oils being used for lighting mines; in favor of a general suspension of mining when there is a low demand for coal; calling upon the legislatures of all states where there there is not now a law upon the statutes to pass a measure requiring all operators owning gaseous mines to employ a competent inspector to examine the mine each morning; expressing it as the sense of the convention that the rates in all competitive districts should be such as to make the cost of producing coal in all the same, granting that all conditions are equal.

FROM FOREIGN CLIMES.

A Terrible Story of Treatment of Immigrants in Brazil—Other Cable News.

LONDON, Feb. 13.—M. Dygasinski, the special correspondent of The Warsaw Courier, who was dispatched to Brazil by that paper to report on the condition and treatment of immigrants to that country, has returned from his mission. M. Dygasinski made a tour of the provinces of San Paulo, Para and Santa Catharina.

He asserts that every possible obstacle was thrown in his way by the government of Brazil, and it was only with the greatest difficulty that he ascertained the truth concerning the emigration question.

Sometime ago, he says, Brazil decided to import 10,000,000 emigrants, and the North German Lloyd Steamship company had already landed 140,000, receiving 300 marks for each of them. Emigrants were not allowed to found colonies but were scattered in forests and abandoned to die of hunger, fever and snake-bites, or to be devoured by beasts of prey. Unable to communicate with friends, a few who survived made their way back to Rio Janeiro, begging of planters scanty meals for which they were compelled to render slavish services.

Arriving at Rio Grande, M. Dygasinski found 700 of his unfortunate countrymen in a dying state, huddled in a wooden chapel, while thousands were camping in the open air in the streets of cities and the primeval forest alike. While in Bremen on his way home the correspondent testified on oath to the truth of his statements before judges of that city who are enquiring into the scandal.

A repatriation fund has been opened by The Courier.

Clamor for a Republic.

MADRID, Feb. 13.—A meeting of Republicans took place in a theater of this city Wednesday night. The building was crowded with people who applauded the orators who enthusiastically advocated the establishment of a Spanish republic.

Senor Labra, the well known Cuban representative in the chamber of deputies, concurred in the sentiments expressed by the speakers, and in turn demanded universal suffrage in the Antilles. Senor Eldurayen, governor of the Mortgage Bank of Spain, has tendered his resignation.

Italy's New Policy.

ROME, Feb. 13.—Marchese Di Rudini, the Italian premier, has explained his program to his colleagues. It is his intention he says, to reduce the military budget without affecting the strength of the army; to effect a revision of the customs duties, so as to protect home industry and trade against foreign competition, and to reform the bank law. The premier also desires to augment the paper currency, and secure legislation for the pensioning of aged workmen.

Dillon and O'Brien Surrender.

FOLKESTON, Feb. 13.—Messrs. Dillon and O'Brien, upon their arrival at this place from Boulogne-sur-Mer, voluntarily surrendered themselves to the police authorities here. They are being well cared for, and have expressed themselves gratified with the courtesy shown them by the authorities. They were permitted to see visitors, and many called, including Mr. Morley.

Election in Northampton.

LONDON, Feb. 13.—Mansfield, the Liberal candidate, was elected in Northampton, yesterday, by a vote of 5,738, Germane, Conservative, receiving 3,723. Bradlaugh, Liberal, in the same constituency, had a majority at the last election of 697.

Nihilists to Be Expelled From Bulgaria.

SOFIA, Feb. 13.—Premier Stambouloff has determined to expel all nihilists from Bulgaria.

EXPLOSION OF NATURAL GAS.

Four Persons Injured, Two of Them Fatally at Lafayette, Ind.

LAFAYETTE, Ind., Feb. 13.—A frightful accident occurred from an explosion of natural gas in west Lafayette, a suburb of this city, at 4 o'clock yesterday morning, by which four persons were injured, two fatally. Tom Northcutt got up and lighted a match when an explosion occurred, blowing out the whole side of the house, setting fire to the building and burning it and the adjoining one to the ground.

Tom Northcutt and Levi Brown were badly burned by the exploding gas, but the most serious injury was to Mrs. Ruth Jenners, an old lady living in the house adjoining, and her son Sida, who are horribly burned over the body, the flesh being covered and hanging in shreds. They cannot recover. The explosion is supposed to have been caused from an accumulation of gas from a leak in main pipe.

Traveling Salesman Killed.

BELLAIRE, O., Feb. 13.—Samuel Louden, traveling salesman for T. W. Paxton, of Cincinnati, was killed at this place by a Baltimore and Ohio train. His body was cut in two above the hips. He lives in Zanesville, and leaves a wife and three children.

Invalid Shoots Himself.

COVINGTON, Ind., Feb. 13.—C. T. Griggs, a prominent citizen, shot and killed himself as the result of protracted illness.

WASHINGTON NEWS.

President Harrison Talks to the Indians.

A CALL AT THE WHITE HOUSE.

They Listen to a Short Speech in Which Some Good Advice is Given—Proceedings of Both Branches of Congress. Other Dispatches From the National Capital.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 13.—The Sioux Indians called at the executive mansion at 1 o'clock yesterday afternoon and were ushered into the east room. They were drawn up in a semi-circle. The president's family and a number of invited guests were present. Rev. Mr. Cook acted as interpreter. Shortly after 1 o'clock the president appeared and addressed them as follows:

Will you say to them, Mr. Interpreter, that I have given them an audience to day, without any intention of talking to them at any length. They have had opportunity to state to the secretary of the interior, and to the commissioner of Indian affairs their wants and views. These officers will bring what has been said to my attention. One or two things I will say myself. It has been a great grief to me that some of the people represented by you have recently acted badly; have gone upon the warpath against the government. You can get nothing by war, except punishment.

You should understand by this time that you are too weak to contend against the United States in war. You must teach your young men not to be warriors, but citizens. When you suffer any wrong through the agents who are over you, you should peacefully make these things known to us here. The president, the secretary of the interior, the commissioner of Indian affairs, the congress and the great mass of our people desire to deal kindly with you. The agreement that was made with you by Gen. Crook and Governor Foster and Mr. Warner, we all desire to carry out faithfully; to do all that we promised to do. I have asked the congress to pass laws to carry out every provision of the contract made with you. It is believed now that full provision has been made for this.

You may not expect that you and your children will always be fed by the government of the United States without working yourselves. Every white man works for the bread and meat that sustains him, and you must learn to do a little more for your own support every year. You must tell your young men to spend their money, or trade their ponies for something that is good for them, and not for rifles. I shall try to see that the Indian police are so increased upon the reservation as to protect you against any bad white men who may live about you. We will try in every way to give your people employment about the agencies, with the army, in the Indian police and otherwise as we can, and you must each take your allotment and endeavor, the best you can, to earn your living, either by plowing or by raising cattle or horses or some other peaceful industry.

I hope you will all return to the reservation with these things settled in your mind, and you may depend on us to do everything we can to promote the advancement of your tribe, to protect you against aggression or injury from those who are about you, and to encourage every Indian who is disposed to be peaceful and industrious.

At its conclusion each Indian was introduced and shook hands with the president. The Indians left the executive mansion and spent the evening shopping. They left for the west at 8 this morning.

In the Senate and House.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 13.—In the senate yesterday the credentials of Mr. Teller for the senatorial term beginning March 4 next were filed. The copyright bill was taken up, the pending question being on an amendment by Mr. Sherman; but owing to Mr. Sherman's absence the bill was laid aside and the District of Columbia appropriation bill was considered and passed. A number of bills on the calendar were passed and the senate adjourned.

After routine business the house went into committee of the whole on the legislative appropriation bill. Mr. Grosvenor had read an account of the meeting at Cooper Union, Wednesday night, together with ex-President Cleveland's letter to E. Elvery Anderson, to which he gave his hearty endorsement. In the debate the administration of the pension office was attacked by Mr. Enloe, of Tennessee, and defended by Mr. Perkins, of Kansas. Comment on the Cleveland letter was made by Mr. Hooker, of Mississippi, and, without disposing of the bill, the house adjourned.

Warning to Pension Attorneys.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 13.—Commissioner of Pensions Raum, will soon issue a formal notice to all pension attorneys, in compliance with the wishes of Assistant Secretary Bussey, in which he will formally warn them that any infraction of the rules, or connection with the obnoxious printed circulars now being issued to claimants and pensioners, will be considered sufficient cause for the recommendation to the secretary of the interior for disbarment.

Senator Hearst Much Better.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 13.—Senator Hearst passed a very good night and is considered very much better.

Which Was Ahead?

A young Augusta financier who had a job of grinding on an old hand mill distinguished himself the other day by offering to let another boy turn the crank for him an hour if he would give him twenty five cents. After boy No. 2 had about half finished the job he concluded he was getting too much for his money, and flatly refused to finish it or pay the quarter for the fun he had had. Both boys will get on, but which will get on top?—Lewiston Journal.

This extraordinary offering is made in order to clear out his winter stock and at the prices he names the goods ought to go fast. Take advantage of this opportunity to secure bargains in shoes.

THE shadow social is the latest, says an exchange. A sheet is stretched across the room which separates the ladies from the gentlemen, the portion occupied by the gentlemen being darkened. One girl at a time is placed so her shadow will fall on the sheet and the shadow is auctioned off to the gentleman, and the highest bidder takes the shadow—or lady that produced the shadow—to supper.

THE sermons recently delivered by Rev. E. L. Powell, of Louisville, on the perils of the church in the world to-day have been published in pamphlet form, and Kackley & McDougle have a number of copies for sale. He discusses "The Perils of the Stage," "The Perils of the Dance," "The Perils of Society," and "The Perils of Business." Mr. Powell was formerly pastor of the Christian Church of this city, and there will no doubt be a big demand for this interesting pamphlet, the price of which is only 25 cents.

THE case of Forman versus Forman, taken up from this county, was submitted in the Superior Court, and the case of Burke against Rhodes has been passed for oral argument.

A MOTION to take the case of Cox, &c., against Griffith to the Court of Appeals has been filed and submitted in the Superior Court. The case was appealed from this county to the Superior Court.

MR. M. F. KEOHE, who was recently appointed to collect the manufacturing and industrial statistics of Maysville for the Census Bureau, received his commission yesterday. Mr. Keohoe enjoys the distinction of being the only Democrat in this city who holds a position under the Republican administration.

DIED, Feb. 10th, near North Middletown, Mrs. Roger Talbott, aged about 25 years. She leaves a babe two days old. The deceased was formerly Miss Ida Matt Carpenter, daughter of H. M. Carpenter, who moved from Mason County a few years ago. Funeral from the residence of Mr. Carpenter yesterday. Burial at North Middletown.

JOHN T. WILSON, of Independence, Kenton County, and Mrs. Amelia B. Fitch, of Fleming County, were married by W. S. Keene at his residence, February 10th. Only a few friends of the contracting parties were present. The happy couple took the 2:20 train on the C. & O. for Maysville, where they will spend some time visiting the parents and friends of the bride—Covington Commonwealth.

CONDUCTOR McLEON's kindheartedness has got him into trouble. He is one of the most obliging fellows connected with the C. and O. A couple of Augusta's young ladies were aboard the eastbound F. F. V. a few evenings since, and he could not resist their appeals to stop the train and let them off at that place. This was a violation of one of the rules of the road, and the conductor is now taking a short "vacation."

THE Covington Commonwealth pays the following compliment to a gentleman well known in this city: "Professor T. F. Leary, now of Lexington, sends us an elegant solution of the cannon ball problem. The problem is to find the altitude of a square pyramid of 285 cannon balls, each six inches in diameter. With only these quantities given the solution is difficult and worthy of notice. As a mathematician, and especially as a geometer, the Professor has few equals."

If a merchant has any snap, any energy, in himself, let him show it in his advertising. If he has any bargains in his store let him say so. If he has connections which enable him to sell better goods, or the same goods at lower prices, than anybody else, let him say that; say it plainly, strongly and in a way that will carry conviction of truthfulness; and on the same principle that leads him to treat visitors to his store so that they will call again, let him write his advertisements so that his next advertisement will be looked for; if you get a person's attention once try to hold it.—Exchange.

J. FRANK SMITH, the fellow who robbed Express Messenger Arch Scudder at Urbana, O., last October, was convicted this week. A special says his trial was brought to a sudden termination Wednesday afternoon. The State had rested its case, when, after a long consultation with his attorney, Smith changed his plea of not guilty to that of guilty, and after a few minutes' deliberation the jury brought in a verdict to that effect. Smith's attorneys asked that the sentence be delayed, in order to introduce testimony in mitigation of the penalty. Smith has made a confession of the crime to Detective Will Hazen, of Cincinnati, and given away his accomplice.

WHISKY TRUST PLOT.

Attorneys in Conference Making Out a Strong Case.

CHICAGO, Feb. 13.—United States Attorney Milchrist and State Attorney Longenecker held an hour's conference yesterday in relation to the whisky trust plot, in connection with which Secretary Gibson, of the trust, was arrested Wednesday. Mr. Milchrist says that under the Federal law Gibson cannot be tried for any crime except bribery, the penalty for which is three years in the penitentiary,—miserably inadequate to the offense. Under the state laws, Mr. Milchrist says, he has enough evidence to send Gibson to the penitentiary for a long term of years. The state, however, will not take up the case until the Federal court has tried Gibson for bribery.

So far as Mr. Milchrist's knowledge goes there is no evidence against any one but Gibson. The only new development in the case yesterday was the discovery of a clew to the maker of the infernal machine said to have been given by Gibson to Dewar last January. An officer will go to Peoria to see the man suspected. No criminal intent or knowledge is attributed to the man, however. He is a machinist, who sometimes did odd jobs for the whisky men. Dewar, who will be the main witness for the prosecution, suddenly disappeared Wednesday shortly after being released on bail.

At the Grace hotel, where he was stopping, the clerk said that he paid his bill Wednesday noon and left, saying he was going to Fond Du Lac, Wis.

Solicitor Hart refused to say what had become of Dewar. "He is in charge of a deputy marshal," said he, "and has gone out of town. Knowing what I do of the desperate character of the whisky trust, I know that no man is safe who crosses their path."

"Do you think an attempt would be made to kill Dewar?"

"I certainly do. He will be closely guarded, and I do not think they will find out where he is."

Since Jan. 10 Gibson has written several letters to Dewar and sent him several telegrams. All these are in the possession of the authorities. "The letters," said Mr. Hart, "contain nothing tangible in any of themselves. The plot, however, is hinted at, and in view of the facts they are valuable evidence. Gibson in his letters frequently admonishes Dewar that he was not using the dispatch he ought to in the matter."

"Last Monday the department sent a decoy letter to Gibson, having Dewar write the letter. The letter was to the effect that he, Dewar, had made several attempts to carry out the plot and had failed, on account of the character of the liquid. He said he thought it had lost its virtue. He instructed Gibson to come to Chicago Wednesday, and bring a new bottle of the stuff. He also told him to bring evidence that he intended to pay him for the job. Gibson answered by telegram that he would come to Chicago Wednesday morning."

"The girl which Gibson carried when he was arrested contained a shirt, a few collars, a bottle of liquid and one hundred shares of whisky trust stock assigned to Dewar. It was part of the deal to pay Dewar in part with stock, and Gibson evidently brought the bonds to show Dewar and spur him on to do the deed."

"What is the nature of the fluid?" "I think it is sulphuric acid and phosphorus. I know that as soon as it is exposed for a moment to the air it will ignite. In the box which Gibson gave to Dewar in January was a section of a gun barrel partly filled with oakum and cotton. What is the nature of the explosive in the barrel beneath the oakum I do not know."

NEWFOUNDLAND'S DEMANDS.

Her Legislature Asks for Reciprocity With the United States.

OTTAWA, Feb. 13.—Newfoundland has already declared for reciprocity with the United States. The governor's speech at the opening of the legislature at St. John's yesterday, announced that a reciprocity treaty had been concluded between the colony and the United States, and it only awaited the assent of the imperial government. The governor, on behalf of the colony, complains of the delay of England in giving her assent, as well as complaining that the proposals of the British government for a settlement of the French shore question has not been favorably received by France.

After the speech was read both houses went into session and passed a resolution calling upon the British government to assent to the reciprocity treaty at once. There is much excitement over what is thought to be the unwillingness on the part of England to assent to the reciprocity treaty.

BAKING TRUST.

The United States Baking Company Meets and Elects Officers.

RICHMOND, Ind., Feb. 13.—The United States Baking company, incorporated last year with a capital stock of $5,000,000, with headquarters in this city, held its annual meeting yesterday. It has eleven branches or cracker factories in Ohio, five in Indiana, seven in Michigan, two in New York, two in Pennsylvania, one in West Virginia and one in Massachusetts.

About fifty of the stockholders in these concerns attended the meeting, but nothing is made public except that no change was made in prices.

The following officers were elected: President, S. S. Marvin, Pittsburg; first vice president, B. F. Crawford, Mansfield, O.; second vice president, W. S. Crane, Detroit; secretary and treasurer, C. E. Rumsey, Pittsburg; superintendent of construction, John G. Seller, Richmond.

Died at the Breakfast Table.

ALEXANDRIA, Va., Feb. 13.—Col. Llewellyn Hoxton, associate principal of the Episcopal high school died suddenly yesterday while breakfasting, aged 52. He graduated at West Point at the outbreak of the war and was appointed to lieutenantcy in the Confederate provincial army, rising to chief of of artillery at the close of the war.

Died of Old Age.

CAREY, O., Feb. 13.—Judge Finnell, aged 82, dropped dead yesterday of old age and heart failure. He has been a resident of this county for many years, coming from Virginia. He died very poor.

Merchants, Read This.

This is the day of printers' ink, and the prizes are for those who use it. Your traditions and prejudices may be to the contrary, but the world doesn't care a fig for them. The man who sits and waits for his trade in these days gets left. Don't advertise, don't quote your price lists, don't see that your city or your business is represented in your patronizing territory, and don't stand up manfully alongside of those who are fighting for your rights and interests, and there can be but one result—shriveling up. Good salesmen, first-class articles, gilt edged credit are not enough. They are excellent, necessary—but not enough. Printers' ink beats them in the long run. In the fierce competition of these days old habits and associations simply can not stand the pressure. The trade is for the man who uses printers' ink.—Grocery World.

For the Farmer

Born, to the wife of T. J. Rice February 7th, a girl; weight 9 pounds.

E. R. Burt visited friends and relatives in the Washington neighborhood this week.

The following parties disposed of their crops of tobacco this week: J. B. Williams, at $9 and $3 to be delivered in stripping order; R. Galtner at $4 and $3, delivered in stripping order. Mr. Frazee of Maysville, was the purchaser. The tobacco was all grown on Mr. Ed. Witt's farm near this place.

Endang'ed His Life for His Money.

CANTON, O., Feb. 13.—Fire at the residence of Henry Yenkes, yesterday morning, destroyed property valued at $2,000. Yenkes last week sold his house and lot to the water works company for $4,100, taking $1,300 in cash and a note for the balance. The note was in the house when the fire started. Yenkes rushed in to save it, when one of the firemen locked the door of the house to prevent a draft. The fire was fierce at the time, and Yenkes was almost suffocated and had his hands and face burned. Mrs. Yenkes, in an attempt to rescue her husband, was badly cut by glass and her hair burned off. The fire was caused by boiling lard taking fire.

A Hungry Turkey.

MUNCIE, Ind., Feb. 13.—Mrs. Lizzie Nelson placed a turkey under a washing tub for space keeping till Christmas. The lady was called away and forgot her gobbler until last Friday, when she moved the tub and was badly frightened to see the fowl hop out and gobble for nourishment, which he had not had for forty-five days.

The Same Old Result.

SPRINGFIELD, Ill., Feb. 13.—The eightieth, eighty-first, eighty-second, eighty-third and eighty-fourth ballot for United States senator all resulted: Palmer, 101; Lindley, 100; Stelle, 3. The joint assembly then adjourned.
